Headline:
Heavy rain at times over the weekend, improving next week.

Today:
Cloudy with fog over the hills and some longer periods of rain. This will turn heavy and perhaps thundery at times, especially during the afternoon. Light winds. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Heavy perhaps thundery showery rain will linger through the evening, before slowly easing during the early hours. Staying cloudy for all. Light winds. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Sunday:
Sunday will be mostly cloudy. Some scattered showers developing, perhaps with the odd heavy shower in the afternoon. Possibly some sunny spells later in eastern areas. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Generally drier and brighter from Monday, with light winds. There will be warm sunny spells, although some coastal low cloud and mist may spread inland during the overnight periods.
